BIO

Keipher Scott aka Korexion comes from a family of very talented musicians in Jamaica and has made his way to Canada to continue on with this prodigy. His teachings came straight from Trench Town University where he learned to integrate the soul and culture of the true roots of reggae music.

Korexion shares his childhood memory and homeland neighbourhood with the spirit of the late Bob Marley. His very first guitar he ever laid his hands on and began strumming belonged to none other than the legend, Bob Marley. With the heavy influence of Bob Marley, Korexion celebrates every year on Bob Marley's birthday in his hometown to perform. The streets of Trench Town are rough. Poverty, violence and political strife are a part of everyday life. Growing up, Korexion fought through every obstacle that came his way and was determined to be a voice of change for the people of the world.

Korexion is a man on a mission, spreading his clean lyrics, lovers' rock feel and spreading the message of love throughout the world. This message continues to ripple throughout the music industry and into our hearts.

With a prestigious Canadian Juno Award for Best Reggae Recording of the Year along with several other accolades achieved, Korexion is now turning his mind back to his roots. Passionate about life and the power of positivity, inspired by his homeland visits regularly, he continues to embrace the cultural foundations of reggae in his latest singles, mixing modern rhythms with echoes of the classics.

With his sight set on the future, Korexion has recently signed with the Canadian independent label 3P Entertainment and they have been diligently working on building his career. First out the gate is a new EP titled "Dreams", featuring new songs and songs from previous releases. His new Single "Dreams" the title track, is set to release April 5th, 2021 which will feature a lyrics video and the promotion of the songs on all streaming platform and the radio waves. Everything starts with a dream but its only action and hard work that will make it a reality. Korexion is up for the job and with the support from the label, will make his dreams a reality.
